

Scientific Meetings, 1940s-1977

MS-N055

9 manuscript boxes

- Box 1
- f.1 Personality dynamics involved in civilian rehabilitation, Felix Deutsch, n.d.
 - f.2 Motor disorders in nervous diseases, Ernst Herz and Tracy J. Putnam, n.d.
 - f.3 Psychoanalytic aspects of shock therapy in schizophrenia, Leland E. Hinsie, post-1941?
 - f.4 Thomas French, January 21, 1944
 - f.5 Summary of a paper on phallic passivity, Rudolph M. Lowenstein, October 8, 1947
 - f.6 The positive and negative functions of the sense of guilt, Gregory Zilboorg, November 12, 1947
 - f.7 Treatment of a seriously disturbed young child, Eveleen N. Rexford, December 10, 1947
 - f.8 Instincts and drive, Heinz Hartmann, May 5, 1948
 - f.9 Analysis of the therapeutic factors in psychoanalytic treatment, Franz Alexander, October 13, 1948
 - f.10 The adaptation of the psychoanalytic technique for the treatment of young children with atypical development, November 10, 1948
 - f.11 Countertransference and attitudes of the analyst in the therapeutic process, Leo Berman, December 8, 1948
 - f.12 Further observations during analysis of postural behavior, Felix Deutsch, January 12, 1949
 - f.13 The significance of Freud's earliest discoveries for the history of psychoanalysis, Ernst Kris, February 9, 1949
 - f.14 A beating fantasy in a case of masochism, Maxwell Gitelson, March 9, 1949
 - f.15 Transference and reality, Herman Nunberg, May 13, 1949
 - f.16 Report on the 16th International Psycho-Analytical Congress, October 5, 1949
 - f.17 Anxiety and the capacity to bear it, Elizabeth Rosenberg Zetzel, November 2, 1949
 - f.18 Political ideals and man's nature, Francis W. Gramlich, December 7, 1949
 - f.19 Clinical and technical aspects of character resistance, Richard Sterba, February 1, 1950
 - f.20 To the methodology of psychosomatic medicine, Therese Benedek, March 1, 1950
 - f.21 Clinical and social problems of passivity, Gregory Zilboorg, April 5, 1950

- Box 1
(cont'd)
- f.22 Some metapsychological aspects of psychosomatic medicine, Sidney G. Margolin, October 4, 1950
 - f.23 Special problems of early sexual development in the female, Phyllis Greenacre, November 10, 1950
 - f.24 Psychotherapy of the psychoses in a state hospital, April 4, 1951
 - f.25 Some aspects of elation, Bertram D. Lewin, May 7, 1951
 - f.26 Leading scientific trends at the 17th Congress of the International Psycho-Analytical Association, October 17, 1951
 - f.27 The use of psychoanalytic constructs in preventive psychiatry, Erick Lindemann and Lydia Dawes, November 28, 1951
 - f.28 Manic depressive reaction relating to Hodgkin's Disease, Henry Brewster; Hearing, the ear and sound, Peter Knapp; Post-traumatic recovery in the ego, Harley Shands; January 16, 1952
 - f.29 The disorder of depression and elation, Gregory Rochlin, March 5, 1952
 - f.30 Discussion of the symposium on current trends on psychosomatic concepts in psychoanalysis, April 2, 1952
 - f.31 Negativism and emotional surrender, Anna Freud, October 22, 1952
 - f.32 The dream specimen of psychoanalysis, Erik H. Erikson, November 26, 1952
 - f.33 Some pathological processes associated with early mother-child separation, John Bowlby, March 11, 1953
 - f.34 Analytic synesthesiology, Felix Deutsch, April 22, 1953
 - f.35 Loss and restitution, Gregory Rochlin, October 28, 1953
 - f.36 Disorders of character: persistent enuresis, juvenile delinquency and psychopathic personality, Joseph J. Michaels, November 25, 1953
 - f.37-38 The training analysis and its place in the psychoanalytic training, Grete L. Bibring, January 27, 1954
 - f.39 A case of impotence, Philip Solomon, May 26, 1954
 - f.40 Sensory impressions in dreams, Peter Hobart Knapp, January 1955
 - f.41 An introduction to the theory and practice of psychoanalytic group therapy, Leo Berman, James Mann, and Elvin V. Semrad, March 16, 1955
 - f.42 A contribution to the ego psychology of a certain type of psychopath: the imposter, Helene Deutsch, April 27, 1955
 - f.43 Scientific meeting in honor of the 70th birthday of Drs. Felix and Helene Deutsch, May 21, 1955
 - f.44 Current concepts of transference, Elizabeth R. Zetzel, June 22, 1955
 - f.45 Reports on the 19th International Psychoanalytic Congress, September 28, 1955
 - f.46 Brief communications, Herbert I. Harris, William F. Murphy, and Henry Wermer, October 26, 1955

Box 1
(cont'd)

- f.47 Psychoanalytic therapy from the point of view of the follow-up, Helene Deutsch, January 25, 1956
- f.48 Psychoanalysis and psychiatry: considerations regarding psychiatric hospital program, Alfred H. Stanton, February 29, 1956
- f.49 Transient disturbances in perception, Sanford Gifford; Dream resistance and schizophrenia, Ives Hendrick; March 21, 1956
- f.50 Problems in working toward an integration of individual and group psychology, Leo Berman, May 23, 1956
- f.51 Narcissistic restitution during pregnancy, Henry M. Fox, June 20, 1956
- f.52 The theory of psychoanalytic technique, Michael Balint, October 27, 1956
- f.53 Character, trauma, and sensory perception, William F. Murphy, November 28, 1956
- f.54 Psychoanalytic concepts in the treatment of the juvenile delinquent, Irving Kaufman, January 23, 1957
- f.55 Is the diagnosis of schizophrenia in early childhood justifiable? Maurits Katan, March 2, 1957
- f.56 Some observations on art and its relation to ego integrity, Martin A. Berezin, March 27, 1957
- f.57 Problems of sublimation, Uno H. Helgesson, May 22, 1957

Box 2

- f.1 Creative passion of the artist and its synesthetic aspects, Felix Deutsch, June 26, 1957
- f.2 Reports on the 20th International Psychoanalytic Congress, October 23, 1957
- f.3 Therapeutic alliance in the psychoanalysis of hysteria, Elizabeth R. Zetzel, November 20, 1957
- f.4 The theoretical implications of hallucinatory experiences in schizophrenia, Arnold H. Modell, January 29, 1958
- f.5 Sleep, time, and the early ego, Sanford Gifford, March 26, 1958
- f.6 An experiment in blind prediction, Peter H. Knapp; Some properties of the patient population, Sidney Levin; Selection and evaluation of patients, Henry Wermer; Institute analysis research, Elizabeth R. Zetzel; April 30, 1958
- f.7 On metaphyschology, David Rapaport, June 25, 1958
- f.8 The loss complex, Gregory Rochlin, September 24, 1958
- f.9 Pre body-ego types of (pathological) mental functioning, Augusta Bonnard, October 2, 1958
- f.10 Awareness and stress, Paul G. Myerson, January 28, 1959
- f.11 The concept "preconscious" and the structural theory, Charles Brenner, February 25, 1959
- f.12 Acute bronchial asthma, Peter H. Knapp and S. Joseph Nemetz, March 25, 1959

Box 2
(cont'd)

- f.13 Edward Bibring's contribution to the understanding of psychotherapy and technique, Anna Freud, April 14, 1959
- f.14 Ego interaction, trauma and insight, William F. Murphy, May 27, 1959
- f.15 Reports on the 21st International Psycho-Analytic Congress, October 28, 1959
- f.16 Some theoretical implications from animal behavior studies for the psychoanalytic concepts of instinct, energy, and drive, I. Charles Kaufman, November 9, 1959
- f.17 Problems of dosage, timing, and tact in interpretation, Ralph L. Greenson, November 30, 1959
- f.18 The innate and the experiential in development, John D. Benjamin, January 27, 1960
- f.19 Ego function and body language, Samuel Silverman, February 24, 1960
- f.20 The biographer and psycho-analysis, Leon Edel, March 23, 1960
- f.21 A study of the psychological processes in pregnancy, Grete L. Bibring, April 27, 1960
- f.22 Piaget's developmental theory in the light of psychoanalysis, Peter H. Wolff, May 25, 1960
- f.23 The psychosexual and the psychosocial dimension in the interpretation of dreams, Erik H. Erikson, June 22, 1960
- f.24 Some re-thinking on our psychoanalytic nosology, Leo Rangell, October 10, 1960
- f.25 Anxiety and depression, the primary affects of unpleasure, George L. Engel, November 9, 1960

Box 3

- f.1 Aggression and the theory of symptom formation, Elizabeth R. Zetzel, January 11, 1961
- f.2 A syndrome of silence: silence, masochism, and depression, Jerome L. Weinberger, February 8, 1961
- f.3 Research with the Hampstead Psychoanalytic Index, Joseph J. Sandler, March 22, 1961
- f.4 Dreaming and psychosis: observations on the dream-sleep cycle during the course of an acute paranoid psychosis, Charles Fisher and William C. Dement, April 26, 1961
- f.5 Short term psychoanalytic and psychosomatic predictions, Peter H. Knapp, May 17, 1961
- f.6 The curative factors in the first phase of psychoanalysis, Maxwell Gitelson, June 5, 1961
- f.7 Reports on the 22nd International Psycho-Analytical Congress, October 25, 1961
- f.8 Hawthorne's last novels: a study in creative failure, John H. Lamont, November 29, 1961
- f.9 Conformity and non-conformity, Jacob Swartz, January 24, 1962

Box 3

- f.10 Affects, emotional reliving, and insight in the psychoanalytic

- (cont'd)
- f.11 process, Arthur F. Valenstein, February 28, 1962
 - f.11 The problems of the psychoanalyst as a teacher in general psychiatry, M. Ralph Kaufman, March 28, 1962
 - f.12 Psychosomatic concepts in psychoanalytic education, Eric D. Wittkower and Johann Aufreiter, May 23, 1962
 - f.13 Psychoanalytic therapy as an educational process, Judd Marmor, June 13, 1962
 - f.14 Dependence in infant care, in child care, and in the psycho-analytic setting, Donald W. Winnicott, October 24, 1962
 - f.15 Assimilation of unconscious material, Paul G. Myerson, November 28, 1962

- Box 4
- f.1 The thought of dying: some origins of religious belief, Gregory Rochlin, January 23, 1963
 - f.2 Metapsychological aspects of phobias in adults, Max Schur, February 27, 1963
 - f.3 The transformation of narcissism into ego-ideal, John M. Murray, March 27, 1963
 - f.4 The gifts of Daedalus: an adaptive aspect of the superego in the maintenance of psychic structure, Joseph T. Coltrera, April 24, 1963
 - f.5 Depression and the incapacity to bear it, Elizabeth R. Zetzel, May 22, 1963
 - f.6 Observations on a congenitally blind child with severe ego deviations, Selma Fraiberg and David Freedman, June 26, 1963
 - f.7 Reports on the 23rd International Psycho-Analytical Congress, October 23, 1963
 - f.8 The theory of therapy in relation to a developmental model of the psychic apparatus, Elizabeth R. Zetzel, January 22, 1964
 - f.9 Three months' study of very young children in Japan, Eleanor Pavenstedt and Peter H. Wolff, February 26, 1964
 - f.10 Psychoanalysis as a biological science, Herbert Weiner, March 25, 1964
 - f.11 On having the right to a life: an aspect of the super-ego's development, Arnold H. Modell, April 29, 1964
 - f.12 The main motif in the development of psychoanalytic thought, Robert Waelder, May 20, 1964
 - f.13 Body image of a photographer, Henry M. Fox, June 23, 1964
 - f.14 Children's nightmares: a developmental study, John E. Mack, October 28, 1964
 - f.15 Dreams about the patient, Roy M. Whitman; The ego factor in psychoanalysis in India, T.C. Sinha; November 18 and 24, 1964
 - f.16 Recent research with the Hamstead Index, Joseph J. Sandler, December 17, 1964
- Box 4
(cont'd)
- f.17 The concept of change in psychological processes and states, Lawrence S. Kubie, January 27, 1965

- f.18 Meditations on genesis: an oblique commentary on psychoanalysis via a consideration of the organismic-developmental approach, Bernard Kaplan, February 24, 1965

Box 5

- f.1 Self-observation, reality and the superego, Martin H. Stein, March 24, 1965
- f.2 Structuralized delay, Seymour L. Lustman, April 21, 1965
- f.3 1965: Additional notes upon a case of obsessional neurosis: Freud 1909, Elizabeth R. Zetzel, May 26, 1965
- f.4 On the relationship of shame and guilt to the instinctual drives, Sidney Levin, June 9, 1965
- f.5 Social problems of an adolescent patient, Suzanne T. van Amerongen, September 29, 1965
- f.6 Purging and curbing: an inquiry into disgust, satiety, and shame, Peter H. Knapp, November 10, 1965
- f.7 The normal personality in our culture and the Nobel Prize complex, Helen H. Tartakoff, January 26, 1966
- f.8 Old age: its liabilities and its assets, Grete L. Bibring, February 23, 1966
- f.9 Countertransference in the analysis of borderlines, Louis S. Chase and A. William Hire, March 23, 1966
- f.10 Philosophy of history in psychoanalysis, Michael T. McGuire, April 20, 1966
- f.11 The analytic process, Elizabeth R. Zetzel, May 25, 1966
- f.12 Repression and repetition in child analysis, Selma Fraiberg, June 22, 1966
- f.13 The real and the reconstructed past, Peter H. Wolff, November 30, 1966

Box 6

- f.1 A common type of marital incompatibility, Sidney Levin, January 25, 1967
- f.2 Two theories or one, or Perspectives to change in psychoanalytic theory, George S. Klein, February 15, 1967
- f.3 Human communication in a clinical setting, Henry W. Brosin, March 22, 1967
- f.4 Some effects of aggression on mood, Gregory Rochlin, April 26, 1967
- f.5 The so-called good hysteric, Elizabeth R. Zetzel, May 24, 1967
- f.6 Psychoanalysis and jurisprudence, Joseph Goldstein, October 21, 1967
- f.7 Further comments on a common type of marital incompatibility, Sidney Levin, November 29, 1967
- f.8 The mirage of mental health, Norman Zinberg, December 19, 1967

Box 6

- f.9 Research in psychoanalysis, Gardner C. Quarton, January 24, 1968

- (cont'd)
- f.10 Consideration of psychiatric abnormalities in patients with a hereditary disorder: Wilson's Disease, I. Herbert Scheinberg, February 28, 1968
 - f.11 Latent dream and body image: relation to numbers 3 and 13, Jerome L. Weinberger, March 27, 1968
 - f.12 The mirage of mental health, Norman E. Zinberg, April 24, 1968
 - f.13 Freud's theories of unconscious immortality and the death instinct: a reconsideration in light of recent historical experience and modern biological knowledge, Sanford Gifford, May 29, 1968
 - f.14 The hysteric's experience in psychoanalysis, Paul G. Myerson, June 26, 1968
 - f.15 Dreaming as process, William W. Meissner, November 20, 1968
 - f.16 Temporal relationships in patterns of illness, Charles A. Pinderhughes, January 22, 1969
 - f.17 The psychoanalysis of shame, Sidney Levin, March 26, 1969
 - f.18 Psychoanalysis and community psychiatry, April 23, 1969
 - f.19 Hysterical conversion symptoms and object relationships, Rolf Arvidson, May 28, 1969
 - f.20 Attachment to painful feelings: a clinical study, Roy Schafer, June 25, 1969
 - f.21 Grief and aggression, Gregory Rochlin, December 2, 1969
- Box 7
- f.1 Hallucinations in a hysteric: unintegrated grief, Max Day, January 28, 1970
 - f.2 A theoretical hierarchy of adult ego mechanisms of defense, George E. Vaillant, February 25, 1970
 - f.3 Repression, resistance and recall of the past, Michael T. McGuire, March 25, 1970
 - f.4 Psychoanalysis and psychic health, Elizabeth R. Zetzel, April 22, 1970
 - f.5 The psychoanalytic situation today, Elizabeth R. Zetzel, June 24, 1970
 - f.6 A quantitative study of a psychoanalysis, Hartvig Dahl, December 2, 1970
 - f.7 The purpose of confrontation, John M. Murray, January 27, 1971
 - f.8 Perception, an ego function, and reality, Edward D. Joseph, February 24, 1971
 - f.9 Present day student rebellion and the alternation of war and peace, Robert H. McCarter, March 24, 1971
 - f.10 Late adolescence: developmental and clinical considerations, Samuel Ritvo, April 14, 1971
 - f.11 The naming of America: psychoanalytic study of a historical event, William G. Niederland, June 2, 1971

Box 7
(cont'd)

- f.12 Ego autonomy and psychoanalytic technique, Rudolph M. Loewenstein, December 1, 1971
- f.13 The first six years: parental care and child development in Japan and America, William Caudill, January 26, 1972
- f.14 On hearing, oral language and psychic structure, David A. Freedman, February 23, 1972
- f.15 Barriers to being in love, Otto F. Kernberg, March 22, 1972
- f.16 The psychoanalyst in the community: potentialities and limitations in a situation of social change, John E. Mack, April 19, 1972
- f.17 The epigenesis of the adult neurosis, Peter Blos, June 7, 1972
- f.18 A trial de novo: some early classic cases, Gregory Rochlin, December 6, 1972

Box 8

- f.1 Mind-body environment, Cecil Mushatt, January 24, 1973
- f.2 The false self syndrome, Paul G. Myerson, February 28, 1973
- f.3 The ego and the id: fifty years later, Arnold H. Modell, March 28, 1973
- f.4 The experience of time: a model for brief psychotherapy, James Mann, April 25, 1973
- f.5 Fathers and sons: the Oedipus Complex in the nineteenth century, Bruce Mazlish, June 27, 1973
- f.6 Opiate addiction: a critical assessment of theory and some implications for current treatment approaches, Edward J. Khantzian, November 28, 1973
- f.7 The hero as an only child: an unconscious fantasy structuring Homer's Odyssey, Bennett Simon, January 23, 1974
- f.8 Ghosts in the nursery: a psychoanalytic approach to the problems of impaired infant-mother relationships, Selma Fraiberg, May 22, 1974
- f.9 A narcissistic defense against affects and the illusion of self-sufficiency, Arnold H. Modell, October 12, 1974
- f.10 The case for a clear-cut clinical distinction between the narcissistic personality disorders and the Oedipal fixation, Max Forman, November 20, 1974
- f.11 Massive obesity, psychosis, and ego organization, Christopher Rowland, January 29, 1975
- f.12 Purgation through pity and terror, William A. Binstock, February 26, 1975
- f.13 An evaluation of suitability for psychoanalysis, Judy L. Kantrowitz, Judy G. Singer, and Peter H. Knapp, March 25, 1975
- f.14 The instrumental point of view in psychoanalysis, Leston L. Havens, April 23, 1975
- f.15 Primary femininity, Robert J. Stoller, June 18, 1975
- f.16 The holding environment and the therapeutic action of psychoanalysis, Arnold H. Modell, November 19, 1975

- Box 9
- f.1 The adaptive function of dreams, Stanley Palombo, January 28, 1976
 - f.2 Transference mobilization, transference resolution, and the narcissistic alliance, Robert D. Mehlman, February 25, 1976
 - f.3 If Freud only knew: a reconsideration of psychoanalytic dream theory, Ramon M. Greenberg and Chester A. Pearlman, March 24, 1976
 - f.4 The nature of the therapist-patient relationship and the creative fantasy in the psychoanalytic psychotherapies, Paul H. Ornstein and Anna Ornstein, April 28, 1976
 - f.5 Psychoanalytic theory and consciousness change, Norman E. Zinberg, May 26, 1976
 - f.6 Some thoughts on resistance and the privacy of the self, John E. Mack, June 23, 1976
 - f.7 Feminine masochism, the ego ideal, and the psychology of women, Harold P. Blum, September 26, 1976
 - f.8 Ambiguity in speech, Richard A. Isay, October 27, 1976
 - f.9 Either-or dilemmas, Anton O. Kris, December 1, 1976
 - f.10 On the 'self' within the matrix of analytic theory, Evelyne Schwaber, January 26, 1977
 - f.11 Mind-body isomorphism and the study of dreams, Robert W. McCarley, February 23, 1977
 - f.12 The mutual influence of developmental and structural concepts on the diagnosis and treatment of parent-loss patients, Joan Fleming, March 30, 1977
 - f.13 Beyond eight month anxiety, Anne-Marie Sandler, April 20, 1977
 - f.14 The therapeutic alliance: contemporary meanings and confusions, Thomas G. Gutheil and Leston L. Havens, September 28, 1977
 - f.15 The analyst's motives, Vann Spruiell, October 26, 1977